Additional Recital Info Continued

Dressing Rooms:

There will be absolutely no gum, food or drinks (other than bottled water) allowed in the dressing room. We would hate to see your child entering the stage with McDonalds or fruit punch all over their costumes! Daddies, Grandpas, and brothers will not be allowed in the girl's dressing room.

A mommy or other female adult must enter the dressing room to assist your dancer in getting dressed and ready to perform. Once your child is dressed and ready to perform, please escort him or her to the Holding Tank. No Parents are allowed in the Holding Tank other than stage moms. Please turn your child over at the door to the stage mom.

Your child will be well taken care of by her stage mom until you return to pick them up. If your child is only dancing in the first act, she must be picked up at the Holding Tank following their final dance.

Holding Tank:

The Holding Tank is the room where your child will wait with a stage mom and his or her classmates until they are delivered to the stage for their performance. There is a monitor scheduled to be in the Holding Tank for all dancers to watch the show until it is their turn to perform. After you have your child dressed and ready to go, please drop them off at the door of the Holding Tank with the stage mom on duty. Please return to pick up your child from the Holding Tank after his or her performance and assist them in getting ready for their next number or take them with you to watch the rest of the show. First act only children need to be picked up no later than intermission. Please do not drop off second act only dancers to the dressing room until the end of intermission.

Theater Etiquette

Please remain seated during each and every number.

If you need to exit the auditorium, please do so between dances. If you know that you will be making several trips in and out of the auditorium, it is best to sit somewhere near the aisle. As a courtesy, do not talk during the recital.

Though that may not be your child on stage at that particular time, she or he is someone's dancer. Please take any squirming children or crying babies to the foyer to settle them down so as not to interrupt the recital.

We know that this will be another show to remember. So let's all have a wonderful time...Break a leg, dancers!

SAVING SEATS: Seating in the auditorium will be on a first come, first served basis and is limited in numbers.

There are no bad seats. We ask that you use good judgment. You may not tape reserved signs to seats, line programs along a row of chairs, nor spread purses out to save a multitude of seats. You may laugh, but we have seen it all...including two daddies boxing it out over a couple of chairs. On the other hand, please do not harass anyone over saving a seat for his or her spouse or a couple for the grandparents. So, let's all use good judgment and make this a pleasant experience for us all. If you have a large number of people coming, please inform them of our policy so that everyone will make an effort to arrive on time. Fairfield Dance Center will reserve a small number of seats to accommodate our audience members with special needs and their family as well as a few special guests. Please look for the FDC logo with reserved seating.

Intermission

The Fairfield Dance Company will be selling refreshments

during dress rehearsal, as well as prior to the recital and intermission. Come by and purchase a cool drink or some fresh baked cookies (chips, candy...) or even a delicious sandwich to fight off those hunger pains! Please remember that food and drinks will not be permitted in the auditorium at any time.

Finale / Awards:

We encourage all dancers to stay until the end of recital and would like for them to participate in the Finale. All dancers will receive a "special something" at this time. Following will be special introductions and announcements. All Performers are invited to participate in the Finale of each show.

Finale participants should meet in lobby (5) numbers before the end of each show.

Trophies will be presented to each Recital Participant at the end of each show.

Awards and Finale will last approximately 20 minutes.
